

Charred remains of Barkett's

The charred ruins of Barkett's Country Kitchen (top photo) remain after an early Sunday morning fire caused between $500,000 and $1 million in damage to Barkett's Big Star Market in the Midtown Village Shopping Center. The fire is believed to have started in the Country Kitchen. Eight fire departments were called to the scene. Fire Chief Larry Linnemeyer said Sunday that the fire probably burned about an hour before it was discovered at 2:47 a.m. The lower picture shows where a section of the wall at Barkett's, center, had to be pushed in so firemen could get to the fire.

Six killed in SeMo

Six persons were killed and four others injured in six traffic accidents Saturday and Sunday in the Bootheel area, the highway patrol reported today. The fatalities bring the total killed this year in the Troop E area to 65, compared with 87 deaths at the same time last year.

Terry Martin Young, 21, of Malden was killed at 1:12 a.m. Sunday on Highway 114 in Morehouse while trying to outrun a Sikeston police car and failed to make a curve as his car ran off the road and struck a parked trailer about eight feet off the road.

A motorcycle rider was killed at approximately 1 a.m. Sunday when his southbound cycle left the highway on a curve, struck a highway sign and ran into a ditch on Route 22 six miles southwest of Dexter.

Time of death was established by Coroner Ray Rainey upon examination of the body.

The body of Donald Gene Treece, 34, of Dexter was found about 8:10 a.m. Sunday by a passing motorist and was taken to Rainey Funeral Home in Dexter.

Treece was born Oct. 27, 1938 at LaValle. On July 22, 1972, he married Janet Taylor, who survives.

Also surviving are one son, Perry Don Treece of Dexter; one daughter, Sherry Treece of Dexter; two stepdaughters, Saurahnee Boyd and Cheryl Freed of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Treece of Parma; one brother, Dale Treece of Granite City, Ill.; and one sister, Margaret Gromer of Columbia.

Burial will be in Bernie Cemetery.

Four persons were killed in a two-car collision at 7 a.m. Sunday on Highway 67 four miles north of Fredericktown.

According to witnesses, the accident occurred when a southbound car driven by Lonnie Ray Maness, 32, of Union crossed the center line and collided with a car driven north by Helen Davis, 50, of Mabelvale, Ark., as the Davis car came over a hillcrest.

Both Maness and Mrs. Davis were killed, along with two sons of Mrs. Davis, Terry Davis, 22, of Little Rock, Ark., and Jack Davis, 19, of Mabelvale.

A pedestrian, Robert Lee Fuell, 11, of Libbourn, was injured at 12:04 p.m. Saturday on Route Y two miles west of Kewanee when he was struck by a cultivator attached to a tractor being driven west by Rocky David Williams, 16, of Marston.

The Fuwell youth received minor injuries and was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

Three persons were injured, two seriously, in a car-motorcycle accident at 11:30 p.m. Saturday on Route PP 15 miles southeast of East Prairie.

The accident occurred when a car being driven west by Terry Redfering, 22, of East Prairie on the wrong side of the road, collided with an eastbound motorcycle driven by Kenneth Larkins, 21, of East Prairie.

Redfering suffered minor injuries. Larkins and a Fire destroys Barkett's store

A fire of undetermined origin Sunday morning swept through Barkett's Big Star Market at Midtown Village Shopping Center, gutting the building and causing between $500,000 and $1 million in damage.

Seven area fire departments assisted Sikeston firemen in fighting the blaze. Fire Chief Larry Linnemeyer said he called the other cities quickly because he could see Sikeston could not handle the blaze by itself.

Cities which sent trucks to Sikeston were Cape Girardeau, Miner, Morehouse, Bertrand, Charleston, Dexter and Matthews.

The fire was discovered at about 2:45 a.m. by a passerby, but Linnemeyer said the fire may have been burning for as long as one hour before it was noticed. Flames were already piercing the roof when firemen arrived.

The blaze began in the center of the Country Kitchen Restaurant adjoining the grocery store, then spread into the supermarket. Linnemeyer said the cause of the fire is undetermined, but arson has been ruled out. He said the store doors and windows were sealed when firemen arrived, indicating that no one had been inside the building.

Firemen remained at the scene until about 8 p.m. Sunday pumping one million gallons of water onto the building. They were called back at 11 p.m. when hot spots began flaring up.

Linnemeyer said the entire shopping center was threatened and if the units from the surrounding communities had not responded, the rest of the center could have burned. Smoke damage was reported to adjoining stores, with the Fabricic store next to the Country Kitchen on the west receiving the heaviest damage.

Cape Girardeau sent a badly needed ladder truck, enabling firemen to get above the fire. Canedy Sign Co. loaned firemen a boom truck for the same purpose.

Linnemeyer said he was pleased with the response of area fire departments and the way firemen fought the blaze.

He said he also wanted to thank the private citizens who joined firemen in fighting the blaze.

Supermarket Phil Barkett said today that he hopes to open a temporary store in the former Anchor Toy building on East Malone Avenue. He could not say when the store would open, but said it would be as soon as he could get goods to stock his shelves and equipment to operate.

Barkett said he will rebuild the store at its present location. Construction should take

EAST PRAIRIE — Warren Edward Buckner, 30, and his wife, Delores Faye Buckner, 26, were killed in a fire which broke out about 9:30 p.m. Sunday in their home at 314 First St.

The couple was reportedly preparing to lay tile in a bathroom when fumes from the cement, used to stick the tile to the floor, collected under the hot water heater and exploded. The bodies were found in the bathroom.

The couple's two sons, Darren Wade, 6, and Dwight Eugene, 4, reportedly ran from the home after hearing the explosion to the home of a neighbor, who called the fire department.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckner were married June 20, 1965. They were members of the First Christian Church and were employed by Brown Shoe Company in Charleston.

Buckner was born March 13, 1943 in Cairo, Ill. to Warren G. Buckner of East Prairie and Louise Dickerson of Illinois.

Chase ends in death

A 21-year-old Malden man, Terry Martin Young, was killed Sunday morning when the car he was driving ran off the road on a curve on Highway 114 at the west edge of Morehouse and struck a parked trailer while being pursued by Sikeston police at speeds over 100 miles per hour.

Police said Young was killed instantly upon impact.

The accident occurred after police officers tried to stop Young for a minor traffic offense. Police said they don't know why Young refused to stop.

Officer Otis Applewhite, who was driving the car chasing Young's car, said Young hit speeds over 120 miles per hour at one point in the chase. His speed was believed to be in excess of 100 miles per hour when he missed the curve and hit a low boy trailer parked eight feet off the side of the road.

Applewhite said he first saw Young on West Malone Avenue near the Sunset Drive intersection. Applewhite and another officer, Sammie Hinton, were eastbound when they saw Young going west on Malone at about 60 miles per hour in a 45-mile-per-hour zone.

Applewhite turned the police car around and began chasing Young, who refused to stop. Applewhite said he was trying to get close enough to read Young's license number when the accident occurred.

Young was employed at Paine Auto Parts in Malden. He was born Jan. 19, 1952 in Poplar Bluff. He recently married Joyce Lavena Burton on June 18 in Malden.

He is survived by his widow: one son, Stacey; his mother, Mrs. Bonnie Woodham of Parma; his father, Bennie Young of Fisk; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Edna Corn of Malden; and paternal grandmother, Iva Young of Broseley.

Services are scheduled at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Boyd Funeral Home in Malden with the Rev. Joe Williams officiating.

Burial will be in Ash Hill Cemetery.

NATIONAL CAPTIVE NATIONS WEEK - 1973

During the third week of July -- from the 15th to the 21st -- Americans will mark the fifteenth annual observance of National Captive Nations Week.

Established by Public Law 86-90 and unanimously adopted in July, 1959 by the Congress of the United States, the special Captive Nations commemoration is now observed in many countries outside the United States; Germany, England, Australia, in Latin America and Asia. Perhaps the most enthusiastic observance will be held by the Republic of China, where Congressman Jack Kemp of New York will appear as the featured speaker from the United States. He will officially represent the National Captive Nations Committee, which is headed by Dr. Lev E. Dobriansky, Chairman, and George Meany, Honorary Chairman.

Here is the United States, hundreds of thousands will join in meetings, rallies, parades, and demonstrations of every size and description; hundreds of proclamations will be issued by Governors, Mayors, and official representatives of states, cities and towns. Congressional participation will be led by Congressmen Daniel J. Flood of Pennsylvania and Edward J. Derwinski of Illinois.

All of which indicates that although the official visit by Dictator Brezhnev was politely acknowledged as a political formality, the people of the United States have not forgotten the great principle upon which this country is based; that all men have an inalienable right to be free. So long as that right is violated, and so long as men are held in bondage, the people of America -- and the world -- will continue to observe Captive Nations week.

Mayor Charlie Henson of Dogtrot says they call them "charge cards" because the month's billing gives you such a shock.

PUBLIC, UNION MEMBERS 'AYE'

A recent survey by the Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., disclosed the not-so-surprising fact that 83 per cent of the general public, as indicated by a nationwide probability sample, favors a law that would require a secret ballot before workers go out on strike.

Among union members, however, the figure was 86 per cent in favor of such a law.

The survey was conducted for The Business Roundtable, an organization of business executives which seeks, among other things, to improve labor-management relations.

Union members were also just slightly behind the total U. S. public -- 81 per cent compared with 83 per cent -- in favoring a law requiring a secret ballot to find out if workers want to stay out in a strike that has not been settled after 60 days.

By 74 per cent and 66 per cent respectively, union members and public favor a law requiring a secret ballot by employees to determine if they want a union to represent them.

It well might be that of Allen Swift, but you wouldn't know it. He rarely speaks as himself.

Known as "The man of a thousand voices," Swift has been everything from a bathroom plunger to a chocolate peanut in some 55,000 TV commercials over the last 20 years. He also was the voice of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the film, "The Longest Day."

The dean of perhaps 18 top professional men and women in this specialized form of auditory art, Swift is an ex-comic who looks more like a flowinghaired symphony cello player.

With him imitation is more than the sincerest form of flattery. He makes more than $100,000 a year peddling from one midtown studio to another on a bicycle to do imitations. He has done as many as 18 in an hour, but now prefers to make only 25 or so commercials a week.

Son of a lawyer, Allen became interested in vocal work early and was a Borscht Belt comic at Catskill mountain resorts. He did night club shows and appeared with stars such as Eddie Cantor and Bob Hope in the early days of television.

A NEW FORM
OF CENSORSHIP
When the national magazine
Look ceased publication, a major reason given by the publisher was drastic postal rate increases. The new postal rates, it was said, would have increased Look's postal bill from $4 million to $10 million in five years. The demise of Look magazine is a symptom of a rising threat to freedom of the press. In the case of larger publications, the danger is dramatic and apparent. The proposed 142 percent increase in second class postal rates
under which newspapers, magazines and periodicals are mailed to the public is "potentially ruinous" in the opinion of Life magazine.

Even more devastating in the long run may be the impact of postal rate increases on the thousands of smaller daily and weekly newspapers that make up the bulwark of the U.S. free press, so far as independent thought is concerned. These thousands of papers have given substance to a basic concept of Western civilization-- the concept of a loyal opposition which protects the rights of the minority, gives meaning to legislative processes of self-government and is a champion of the oppressed. No vehicle of communication can ever take the place of the press as a defender of freedom. It has survived attempted censorship
in many forms and is now threatened by the economics of postal rate increases.

A MATTER OF ATTITUDE
Your attitude toward many events which affect your life determines the extent of both success and happiness. A failure to one person may be a success to another-- it is all a matter of attitude. The answers to the following questions tell why.

Are you Lucky? Luck is what happens when effort and opportunity meet.

Are you Courageous? Courage is not freedom from fear; it is being afraid and going on.

Are you Doubtful? When there is doubt, supplant it with action.

Are you Happy? Some act as though comfort and luxury were the chief requirements of life. All we need to make us really happy is something to be enthusiastic about.

Are you Lazy? Some folks never travel far enough to reach a destination because they plan their course by latitude and longitude!

Are you Optimistic? The same rain that saves the optimist's lawn, makes the pessimist's weeds grow faster.

Are you Positive? Positive anything is better than negative nothing.

Are you Miraculous? Miracles sometimes occur, but one

for them.

WRONG PEOPLE

It may be that had President Nixon gone to the general public for advice on whether to resign, instead of questioning his family, he would have done differently. It is beyond imagination that the
family would have admitted
the nation is being disgraced by
the ever expanding scandal
which originated at Watergate.

In the 1972 election, we

evidence of the former.

BUDGET-BUSTERS
MOVE THROUGH
CONGRESS
One of the most disastrous
effects of the continuing Watergate fallout, especially
for burdened taxpayers, is that the ongoing Battle of the Budget seems to have been forgotten.

Watergate has been an incredible boon to the
congressional spenders and
their allies. It has enabled them
to move from the defensive to
the offensive, and has focused
attention away from the failure
of the ineffective New Deal-
Great Society domestic programs that were under attack.

Proponents of fiscal discipline and bringing inflation under control should
be aware that a substantial
amount of domestic legislation
is rapidly moving through Congress, and unless stopped
or vetoed will cost billions of dollars.

The outlook in the Senate
is extremely bleak, as the spending Democrats and a few Republicans are firmly in control -- and they have made
it clear that they propose
taking a meat axe to the defense budget in order to keep funds for their own pet
social welfare plans.

The outlook in the House
of Representatives is somewhat
better, but still not promising,
according to our Washington
sources.

The main hope for winning
"Phase II" of the Battle of the Budget lies with the Administration. Specifically, it depends on the will and
courage of President Nixon,
who must rise above his
current troubles and continue
to hold the line on spending.

The spending area has been the President's only real victory
this year, and taxpayers must urge him not to let up now.

It shouldn't be forgotten
that the President's vetoes of vocational rehabilitation and waters and sewers were both upheld by solid margins, and
despite Watergate, the President should be able to
count on wide popular support
in his efforts to hold down
spending in order to check
inflation and prevent a tax rise.

A day of hard work is less exhausting than a day of worry.

The people of the United States should write letters to the editor and alert their Senators and Congressmen to make certain that the entire
resources of the ocean floors
out to the continental shelf are retained for the benefit of our own people. We have punished
producers for the benefit of
already, to the detriment of our own security and

corruption of campaign funds.
Already the GAO has charged that a (Terry) Sanford Carolina Campaign Committee has reported "contributions and expenditures not supported by any records." It has failed to "itemize receipts (of) over $100 in some cases, has doubled reporting of expenditures, and has failed to itemize more than $19,000 in expenditures of over $100
each."

"Our audit of the books and records maintained by the Committee treasurer disclosed numerous examples of incomplete, erroneous, or altered records," charged the GAO.

Sanford is an honorable man. He is former Governor of North Carolina, Sen Ervin's home state, and now is president of Duke University as well as head of one of the Democratic party's key reform committees. But just look at the GAO report.

And it's worth recalling the conviction of the former United Mine Workers president
Tony Boyle, now being probed
by both a Justice Dept. special labor-management unit and the state of Pennsylvania for possible implication in the murder of miners' dissident Jock Yablonski.

Boyle was convicted March 31, 1972, and heavily sentenced on June 27, 1972, to five years imprisonment and fined $130,000 for illegally diverting $49,250 from his union treasury to various political campaigns in 1968 and '69.

Virtually all of this money
went to the Democrats'
national committees.

Some $130,000 went to a Salute to Humphrey dinner committee in the final days of the 1968 presidential campaign. Another $5,000 went to a 1968 Democratic congressional dinner. Similarly, $5,000 went to them in 1969.

Federal Judge Charles R.
Richey hit Boyle with everything in the legal books.
He ordered Boyle to repay the money to the miners union out of his own funds. He fined him $10,000 on each of 13 counts.
And he was relentless on the prison term which Boyle may yet serve.

Yet Boyle was not accused of stealing a cent. The murder mystery is, ghastly enough, something else. In this political contribution case, Boyle stupidly failed to separate accounts. He signed checks drawn from general funds.

What if this becomes a precedent if upheld on appeal?
What if moneys intended for one's candidate, but taken out of union or business funds, must be repaid out of personal accounts?

This case, the contributions to the Humphrey campaign,
the upcoming GAO gargantuan
set of political campaign
reports and the open-ended Ervin committee hearings are piling up the most massive inventory of unopened cans of political worms since Socrates took to drink.

The Ervin
committee on presidential campaign activities is truly non-partisan, it may have others than Dick Nixon to kick around. Some of the TV cameras may be gone, giving way to the soap operas.

waterways and harbors.

As the measure moves
through the appropriate congressional committees toward ultimate approval, it reflects the work of many authorities, both in government and in the shipping industry. In other words, in its final form, it will bear the stamp of a cooperative endeavor by shipping lines and government to improve merchant vessel and tanker operations in U.S. ports. Much of the credit for the new law to make Coast Guard regulation more effective must go to organizations such as the American Institute of Merchant Shipping, a national trade association composed of 35 American shipping companies which own and operate about 430 U.S.-flag, oceangoing vessels-- including major U.S. tanker fleets. A representative of AIMS, as the shipping group is called,
recently presented the organization's views on certain changes that members of the association felt should be made in the proposed law to achieve the objectives of greater safety and environmental protection.

This is only one instance of many where in the field of public regulation the practical experience of the regulated has provided a major contribution to the law-making process.

It's hard to contact people

the phone service is bad. You can't write because the postal can't even use smoke signals on account of air pollution.

In the atomic age, you don't

SAM LEVENSON SAID:
My first visit to a disappointment. I was paying him $150 for a 10-minute

you think you are, anyway?"

WRONG PEOPLE
FOR ADVICE
It may be that had
President Nixon gone to the
general public for advice on
whether to resign, instead of
questioning his family, he
would have done differently. It
is beyond imagination that the
family would have admitted
the nation is being disgraced by
the ever expanding scandal
which originated at Watergate.

In the 1972 election, we thought Nixon was the lesser of two evils, but now we have some severe doubts. Neither Nixon nor McGovern should have been elected and the country's condition today is evidence of the former.

CONGRESS
One of the most disastrous
effects of the continuing Watergate fallout, especially
for burdened taxpayers, is that
the ongoing Battle of the Budget seems to have been
forgotten.

Watergate has been an incredible boon to the
congressional spenders and
their allies. It has enabled them
to move from the defensive to
the offensive, and has focused
attention away from the failure
of the ineffective New Deal-
Great Society domestic
programs that were under
attack.

Proponents of fiscal
discipline and bringing
inflation under control should
be aware that a substantial
amount of domestic legislation
is rapidly moving through Congress, and unless stopped
or vetoed will cost billions of dollars.

The outlook in the Senate
is extremely bleak, as the
spending Democrats and a few Republicans are firmly in
control -- and they have made
it clear that they propose
taking a meat axe to the
defense budget in order to
keep funds for their own pet
social welfare plans.

The outlook in the House
of Representatives is somewhat
better, but still not promising,
according to our Washington
sources.

The main hope for winning
"Phase II" of the Battle of the Budget lies with the Administration. Specifically, it
depends on the will and
courage of President Nixon,
who must rise above his
current troubles and continue
to hold the line on spending.

The spending area has been the President's only real victory
this year, and taxpayers must
urge him not to let up now.

It shouldn't be forgotten
that the President's vetoes of
vocational rehabilitation and
waters and sewers were both
upheld by solid margins, and
despite Watergate, the President should be able to
count on wide popular support
in his efforts to hold down
spending in order to check
inflation and prevent a tax rise.

A day of hard work is less
exhausting than a day of
worry.

The people of the United States should write letters to
the editor and alert their Senators and Congressmen to
make certain that the entire
resources of the ocean floors
out to the continental shelf are
retained for the benefit of our
own people. We have punished
already, to the detriment of
our own security and
economy. HLLH

Friday 13th lucky for 3 Bloomfield residents

BLOOMFIELD— What started as a day's outing nearly ended in tragedy Friday for three residents of the Bloomfield community.

James E. Spain, former 151st District state representative, his son Sam 12, and Gary Sharp, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Sharp, were swimming in Current River near Van Buren when the boys were swept downstream in a current.

Spain went to the aid of the boys. His son managed to get to shore with little assistance, but the other boy was still caught in the current and moving faster downstream. Spain struggled through the current and was able to get the boy out of the dangerous area far enough that he could make it to land alone.

By this time, however, Spain had exhausted his energy and was so drained of strength that he could not make it to shore and began to sink. Luckily for Spain, a couple of friends from Bloomfield, Don Harper and Trent Shipman, were nearby in a boat and were able to get to the Bloomfield attorney before he went under the third time.

It was at first thought that Spain had suffered no injuries as a result of the struggle, but it was later diagnosed at Dexter Memorial Hospital that he had bruised a kidney and had some congestion in his lungs.

He remained at the hospital for observation until being released Sunday.

When Princeton and Rutgers played the first American football game in 1869, some Princetonians roared, "Siss, boom, bah." The shout derived from the rocket yell of New York's 7th Regiment which had passed through the Princeton campus during the Civil War, and left a lasting impression.

4 Warm family relationship is strange to husband

Dear Ann Landers: I am only 21 years old and have been married five years. My husband, who is 27, is carrying on with our baby. She is 16. I became suspicious when it took him an hour and a half to drive her home. She lives six blocks from here.

I found motel room receipts in his pockets (how dumb can you get?) and a bill for perfume came to the house. He said he bought it for his mother. His mother doesn't even know what perfume is. We had a long talk a month ago and he swore he had stopped seeing the girl and I thought it was settled. I should have known better. He is such a liar I can't get a straight sentence out of him. Divorce is out of the question. Our religion allows one marriage, lousy or not.

The girl is considered a minor in this state. Can I do anything through the courts to break them up?—Only His Wife

Dear Only: You could have your husband put in jail, but what good would that do? My advice is to get some counseling and decide if you want to share bed and board with the bum. The Church doesn't insist that you live with a man who acts rotten. Interesting that this girl is exactly the age you were when you married him. If you'd like to write another letter for 16-year-olds who think they are mature enough to get married, be my guest.

Dear Ann Landers: Four years ago we moved to Albuquerque. We have a lovely adobe house with a spacious back yard and the air is fresh and invigorating. My parents, who live in a small apartment in the heart of Newark, have been driving out every August to spend a week with us. Before they pull up they always stop at a market, load the car with steaks, chops, fruits, vegetables and canned goods. They also insist on taking us to dinner at a fine restaurant the night before they leave. One could hardly call them free-loaders.

My husband, Karl, starts knocking them mid-July. After they leave I have to listen to his small digs for another two weeks. Neither Mom nor Dad has an ounce of malice in them. They are lovely, big-hearted people. I can't understand why Karl dislikes them.

His folks are a couple of sour apples. At our wedding his father and mother shook hands with me. I have never seen them kiss anyone. (I often wondered how they happened to produce Karl.) We have invited them to visit us a dozen times but they are too cheap to make the trip.

Karl is beginning to complain about my folks because they are due here in a few weeks. What shall I say to him?—Mae

Dear Mae: Save your pipes and enjoy that lovely New Mexico air. Nothing you say will make any difference.

That poor fish was probably hatched in a tank of ice water and doesn't know what it is to have a warm family relationship. He resents yours, which is why he keeps chipping away at it. Tune him out, honey.

Confidential to Grown-Up Girl Who Wants To Learn From Experience: This is one experience you can live without. I am dead set against any mind-altering drug. Your friend has been very fortunate. I hope she doesn't push her luck. Flashbacks can occur as late as several months after the dosage.

Miss Newman is June bride

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Barks Jr.

Miss Carole Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Newman of Route One became the bride of Delmar Barks Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Barks Sr. of Dexter, in a candlelight service at Shady Acres Church of Christ on June 29. The 8 p.m. ceremony was performed by Manly Luscombe the Shady Acres minister.

The altar setting featured two brass arch candelabras holding white tapers. At the foot of the steps on either side was an elevated brass standard holding a basket of pink and white daisies, accented with greenery and a large pink satin bow. White satin bows holding a piece of lily of the valley marked the pews.

Recorded songs by the Harding College a cappella choir were played before and after the ceremony. The song, "Because", was played as the candles were being lit and the mothers of the bride and groom were being seated. During the ceremony, Mrs. Nola Vest of Sikeston sang, "More" and "We've Only Just Begun".

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie with an empire-style waistline flowing into a softly gathered skirt. The dress featured a stand-up lace collar and full sheer sleeves ending in deep cuffs trimmed with tiny pearl buttons. A wide center panel of lace formed a pinafore effect, and a long chapel train of lace covered peau de soie extended from the waistline. Her veil was an elbow length mantilla bordered with lace matching that of the dress. The dress and veil were made by a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Mark Busby of Wentzville.

The bride's only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings, a gift from the groom. She carried a colonial style arrangement of rainbow colored daisies and baby's breath with varied pastel-colored streamers. Her bouquet was attached to a white Bible.

On her way to the altar, the bride paused to kiss her mother and present her a long-stemmed white rose. Directly after the ceremony, she gave the groom's mother a kiss and a rose.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Rachel Reed of Matthews. She wore a formal gown of peach-colored polyester overlaid with white chiffon flocked with large pastel-colored flowers. She also wore a peach-colored picture hat. Her colonial-style bouquet of daisies with long streamers matched the color of her hat.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Sybil Childers and Miss Beth Byrd of Sikeston; Miss Sherrie Owens of Vanduser; Mrs. Phyllis Rogers of Dexter; Mrs. Doris Taylor of Dexter, sister of the groom; and junior bridesmaid, Miss Stacey Arbuckle of Oran, cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids' costumes were styled identical to the one worn by the matron of honor, and colors of their dresses, hats and flowers were pink, mint green, lavender, blue, yellow and mint green.

Miss Dawn Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams of Dexter and cousin of the groom, was flower girl. Her dress of mint green was styled like those of the bridesmaids. She wore green ribbons in her hair and carried a white basket of pastel-colored daisy petals.

knit, floor-length dress. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses.

Miss Rita Bradshaw of Sikeston presided at the guest book. Her pink dress was styled like those worn by the bridesmaids. The guestbook was covered with a white lace cloth. Each person who registered was presented a wedding scroll which was engraved with the origin and meaning of wedding traditions. Each scroll was tied with a white ribbon with a white ribbon with a piece of lily of the valley entwined.

Mrs. Floy Gruen of Sikeston, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Dorothy Billingsley of Dexter, aunt of the groom, presided at the serving table during the reception following the wedding. Mrs. Billingsley also made and decorated the bride's cake.

Mrs. John Arbuckle of Oran, and the Misses Melissa, Cendra, Sondra and Darlene Smith of Lilbourn, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the gift table.

After a short honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains, the couple will live in Dexter where the groom is employed by Gary Dowdy of Westside Building Co.

About 40 people attended the rehearsal dinner on June 28 in the Fellowship Hall of the Shady Acres church.

The bride was honored with two showers before her wedding. One was given by her matron of honor and other members of the wedding party, and one was given by the McMullin Extension Club.

DON'T DESPAIR! DON'T PANIC! AGING TOO FAST? READ THIS! STOP THE AGING PROCESS?

You can erase those lines and wrinkles. Feel and look 10-20-30 years younger? Can the aging process be slowed? Can it be reversed? Yes... on all counts, through BIOLOGICAL CELLULAR REJUVENATION THERAPY. The same basic cellular rejuvenation offered in Switzerland which costs several thousand dollars and must be repeated with injections every six months, IT'S NOW AVAILABLE TO EVERYONE who wants help. For only a few cents a day, you can keep up your program for years with no costly injections and no side effects.

YOUNG AND OLD BOTH BENEFIT

This breathtaking affirmative answer to these questions is made possible by the remarkable results of recent nutritional studies by B. S. Frank, M.D. of New York. The expected action of the biological cellular regeneration is: Improved and youthful appearance, improved skin, hair and nails, improved energy, improved mental concentration, improved organ functions, improved gland functions, renewed virility, slowing down of aging. Aging involves the loss of RNA and other metabolites. Cellular Therapy is available now for everyone and replaces these losses.

THE KEY

Dr. Frank's theory, strongly supported by his clinical results, is that the key to maintaining youthfulness lies in finding ways to help your body's DNA and RNA renew themselves so as to keep their patterns of genetic information etched clean and fresh. His work with DNA and RNA and related metabolites demonstrates the importance of these substances to the quality as well as length of life. They point not only to a longer life free of disease, but to the marvelous quality of being young as long as you live.

CAUSE OF WRINKLES

One of the most obvious effects of aging is the wrinkling of skin. In aging skin, there is a decrease in elasticity, and a thinning due to loss of fat and water. Lines and wrinkles in the face and hands become more prominent. The backs of the hands, highly visible indicators of age, become shiny, spotted with lentigos (brownish, pigmented areas), and perhaps may develop senile keratoses (horny, wart-like growths).

Why do all these changes occur? Because the cells which contain the blueprints for the formation of the various organs are tired and worn and no longer able to maintain the pattern they inherited.

To quote the doctor: "Basic to the author's approach is the theory that exogenous RNA, especially when combined with metabolically associated B vitamins, minerals, amino acids and sugars, will enter the cell and aid in normal regeneration of the decayed metabolic organization of the cell, and in so doing, will bring about normal enzyme synthesis and activation." Results of studies "clearly show that exogenous RNA, or related compounds, especially when given along with other metabolites, do indeed visibly reverse aging," Dr. Frank said.

EASY TO TAKE CAPS

In essence, Dr. Frank's treatment is to supply the body, from external sources, with enough viable nucleic acids and with other nutrients these nucleic acids require to be properly metabolized. The nucleic acids themselves will therefore stay younger longer, and this will be reflected in the tissues they control.

Scientifically it has been proved to be very effective in stimulating the entire human organism. The RNA formula was discovered in 1924 by Russian scientists and introduced in human therapy ten years later. Since 1934 it has been further developed and improved in different countries of the world, particularly in France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland. The formula is the result of research and development work of professors in the leading institutes and manufactured under permanent control of state health authorities in the most up to date laboratories.

The oral formula is now available to everyone, plus simple instructions on proper amounts and use to gain immediate results within the first week of the program. This truly could be the remarkable fountain of youth we are all seeking.

FORMULA AVAILABLE FROM US

We now have the RNA formula in capsules described in the Brochure, and it is really fantastic. We are offering it to our mail order customers at an introductory price of $17.95. This includes a 90-day supply of capsule RNA formula, plus metabolically related vitamins, minerals, etc., to act as the necessary catalyst for the RNA caps. It also includes the Brochure with complete instructions. Send $17.95 cash, check or M.O. No C.O.D. please. Plus $1.00 for postage and handling.

Intellectually gifted children need continuous stimulation, challenge

BENTON — Education at home, in the community or at school, should have a goal of motivating all youngsters to fulfill their ability and potential. Continuous stimulation and challenge is important for all, but especially so for the intellectually gifted.

A report to the U. S. A. Commissioner of Education said a minimum of three to five per cent of school population fall into the "gifted" category.

"Our educational system has been built on the false assumption that a bright youngster ... will serve to raise the level of the others... This just doesn't happen. Unless his talent is recognized and provided for by a program that is truly challenging, that talent will simply deteriorate," stated the principal of a New York high school in "Children Today".

Results of a vast body of research have demonstrated beyond question that children of exceptional intelligence do not learn effectively when grouped throughout their school years with children of average ability.

Gifted children learn differently; they tend to comprehend new subject matter more easily, ask more questions, to remember more of what they learn. Because of these and related abilities, intellectually gifted thrive in an environment where excellence is expected; where critical thinking, problem solving and creative expression are part of the everyday routine.

Techniques dealing with exceptional students have progressed from grade skipping to individualized ability pacing in some class. This eliminates the bright, but physically and emotionally immature youngster in a class of older students.

Along with changed educational approach, a new picture of a gifted child comes about. The stereotype of the odd and owlish bookworm isn't representative for intellectually superior youngsters often lead in other social areas. They walk and talk earlier in infancy, enjoy sports and perform well, tend to be friendly and popular with classmates and involved in activities not school related. Long-range studies show that, in general, they are less prone to serious mental and physical illness and enjoy a greater self-confidence.

Children rated as superior by teachers in almost all aspects of development have been found to have experienced a pattern of effective "mothering", according to a Harvard study of 150 children.

The effective pattern was explained as being generally available, though not necessarily 24 hours a day; they responded rather quickly, taking a moment to consider what the child was up to and then giving response child seemed to need. "Good mothers do this dozens of times a day."

These super mothers were described as enthusiastic and encouraging, especially of their youngsters' fantasy and pretend behavior. They seemed to practice what the developmental theory of child guidance preaches as being helpful for all -- because each child is gifted and superior in their own way."

James D. "Uncle Jimmie" Rodgers, 90-year-old Civil War veteran in Scott County, died unexpectedly at the home of his son, Harris D. Rodgers, at Benton Monday morning. He was seated on the front porch of the Rodgers home and had coughed once or twice, according to his daughter-in-law who went out to see the aged man and found him slumped over in his chair. He realized two pet ambitions of his declining years. In the first place he lived to be 90 years old, reaching that majority last May 11. The other ambition or wish was to be buried with his beloved Confederate flag, which he preserved from the war between the States having served under the command of General Joe Wheeler.

Fuel use rises

NEW YORK can be a lonely place, and this Brooklyn Bridge scene seems to bear that out.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) - Total gasoline consumption in Missouri in 1972 was 4.7 per cent higher than in 1971, the Missouri Oil Council reported Saturday.

This compared with a 6.5 per cent rise nationwide, said John Denman, executive director of the council.
The state's highway and nonhighway use totaled 2,667,902,000 gallons in 1972, Denman said, compared with 2,547,436,000 in 1971.

Department of Revenue figures on gasoline taxes, for the end of May, showed Missouri is running 6.8 per cent ahead of 1972 in motor fuel consumption. Total use in May was about 88 million gallons less than in April. Figures for June had not been compiled.
Denman offered these tips on conserving fuel:

-Keep your car's engine well tuned.

-Do not fill the tank to the brim. Fuel will overflow while the car is in motion or while parked on an incline. Also, it will expand in hot weather.

-See that tires are adequately inflated

-Avoid quick stop-and-go situations, drive at moderate speeds and avoid jackrabbit starts.

-Don't idle the motor for long periods while parked.

-Whenever possible, leave the car at home.

Key measures await Bond's signature

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Decisions on a half dozen controversial measures faced Gov. Christopher S. Bond today as he prepared to act on another batch of bills approved by legislators.

Bond scheduled bill-signings for this afternoon, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday morning.

Key measures awaiting his signature or veto were:

—A bill to reorganize state government.

—The open meetings bill.

—A measure to give tax relief to persons over 65.

—A bill allowing the legislature to hire as many employees as it wants by resolution instead of by legislation.

2 arrested in raid

Two people were arrested Saturday morning in a drug raid at the Donald Stroud home, 217 North Prairie Street.

Arrested for possession of controlled drugs and narcotics paraphernalia were Marilyn Bass, 21, and Steven Kaiser, 21, of Redondo Beach, Calif., at 9:45 a.m. in a raid staged by Scott and New Madrid County sheriffs offices, the highway patrol and city police.

The raid was staged after the Scott County Sheriff's Department was tipped off that the two were carrying drugs.

They were staying at the Donald Stroud home at the time of the raid.

—A measure making voter registration mandatory throughout the state.

—A bill to allow the state Department of Education to organize a statewide program for teaching of the mentally and physically handicapped and to increase state aid to districts with such programs.

Bond, who has been out of the state for two weeks — attending two conferences and taking a vacation — must decide whether to veto or approve 81 bills.

He already has vetoed three and signed about 150.

If he doesn't veto a bill by Aug. 9, it becomes law without his signature, providing the House and Senate, by joint resolution, instruct the secretary of state to print it in the statutes. Vetoed bills will be reconsidered when the legislature reconvenes in January.

Bond is known to have second thoughts about the reorganization bill, the open

Angels' Ryan no-hits Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — "Super stuff...super stuff...super stuff!"

"The best I've ever seen!" There were as many descriptions of Nolan Ryan's pitching Sunday as there were strikeouts by the California flamethrower against Detroit.

But despite firing his second no-hitter of the year and striking out 17 batters, the 26-year-old right-hander insisted he has to work on his pitching.

"I needed this because I wasn't pitching well," Ryan said after hurling the Angels to a 6-0, no-hit victory over the Tigers before a Cap Day crowd of 41,411 at Tiger Stadium.

Ryan became only the fifth man in major league baseball history to pitch two no-hitters in one season. Two months ago to the day he no-hit the Royals.

No one has ever had three no-hit games in a single season.

It was the third no-hitter in the American League this year. The other was against Detroit, a 3-0 victory for Steve Busby of the Royals on April 27.

Vada Pinson gave Ryan all the support he needed with a sacrifice fly in the third off loser Jim Perry, 8-9. Pinch-hitter Winston Llenas and Alan Gallagher each singled in two runs in the eighth and Bob Oliver drove in the other with a single.

Around the rest of the American League Sunday, the Minnesota Twins topped the Cleveland Indians 7-6 in 10 innings, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2, the New York Yankees blanked the Kansas City Royals 2-0, the Oakland A's beat the Milwaukee Brewers 8-5 and the Boston Red Sox defeated the Texas Rangers in a game halted by rain after 5½ innings.

Twins 7, Indians 6

First the pitchers wiped themselves off with towels. Then the batters wiped up the pitchers with homers. And finally, Minnesota's Danny Thompson and Mike Adams combined to wipe out Cleveland.

In the sixth inning, plate umpire Art Frantz "frisked" Gaylord Perry, looking for illegal goodies the Indians' pitcher might be using to doctor the baseball. Then, at Minnesota Manager Frank Quilici's request, a towel was produced and Perry obligingly wiped his face.

In the seventh, Cleveland Manager retaliated. He came running out with a towel of his own and demanded equal rubbing. "If they can pull that stuff," he snorted, "we'll pull it, too." Minnesota pitcher Bert Blyleven resisted for a few moments, then snatched the towel and gave his face a few brisk wipes. Then the game resumed.

In the eighth inning George Hendrick boomed a three-run homer to give Cleveland a 5-3 lead.

But in the bottom of the eighth, George Mitterwald hit a home run.

Then Joe Lis hit a home run.

Then Jim Holt hit a home run...and the Twins led 6-5. But in the top of the ninth, Buddy Bell singled for the tying run.

And in the 10th, after three walks loaded the bases, Thompson lofted a fly ball to short left field. Mike Adams, running for Tony Oliva at third base, decided to gamble and took off after the catch. He gambled right. Charlie Spikes' throw home was wide.

Orioles 3, White Sox 2
 Mike Cuellar, who'd been falling apart earlier this year, got himself together and pitched a nine-strikeout, seventh hit performance for Baltimore.

The Orioles got all three of their runs in the sixth inning on Mark Belanger's double and singles by Al Bumbry, Tommy Davis and Earl Williams.

Yankees 2, Royals 0
 For seven innings, Kansas City's Ken Wright and New York's Sam McDowell were locked in a scoreless pitching duel. But in the eighth, Wright made a bad pitch—to first base—paying the way to the Yankees' victory.

McDowell allowed just three hits and struck out seven Royals before Sparky Lyle came on in the ninth to record his 24th save.

A's 8, Brewers 5
 Bill North whipped a two-run double down the left field line and Reggie Jackson followed with a two-run homer, his 20th of the season, to catapult Oakland past the Brewers. The four runs offset Milwaukee's four run third—a two-run triple by George Scott and a two-run homer by Darrell Porter.

Red Sox 3, Rangers 1
 There were 11,793 fans who paid their way into Fenway Park. How many of them were around two hours and 53 minutes later is open to question. But all the players were there. Their game was just about to begin after the rain had finally ended.

Boston got a run in the first inning on Luis Tiant's double and Orlando Cepeda's single, Texas tied it in the second on singles by Rico Cartey, Jeff Burroughs and Jim Spencer, then Dwight Evans gave the Red Sox the victory with a homer in the bottom of the second. Boston added a fifth-inning run. And as they prepared to bat in the sixth, the rains came again...and that was that.

In the National League it was Cincinnati 3, New York 1; Los Angeles 9, Chicago 3; San Francisco 12, Pittsburgh 0; Atlanta 6, Montreal 1; St. Louis 5, San Diego 4 in 15 innings and Houston 2, Philadelphia 0 in a rain-shortened 5½ innings.

HORSHAM, Pa. — Carole Jo Skala fired a three-under-par 70 to win the $30,000 George Washington Golf Classic by one stroke.
